

super organic distribution

Organic Life, based in beautiful Byron Bay, is passionate about organic and raw foods, distributing unique brands that share a common goal: the love of wholesome food and the belief that nutrition should be simple, nourishing, fair trade and sustainable.

More than just a distribution company, Organic Life carefully source organic, sustainable products that are of the highest quality and provide a range of services to promote these brands across Australia. Their national warehousing and logistics network deliver products to over 2000 stores on a daily basis. Organic Life pride themselves on being up-to-date with new trends in the organic market. Their team have extensive knowledge about organic products and can provide assistance with product development and sales opportunities within their network.

Organic Life are committed to doing business responsibly and behaving ethically. QLM have been working with several suppliers to Organic Life and have found that this is a great fit because they genuinely care about your brand and finding you customers. Annie from Organic Life says: "Celebrating our growers, producers and suppliers is important to us at Organic Life and our goal is to reduce food miles and provide a more direct link from our farmer's paddocks to our family's pantry."

Give your brand a second life. Rather than being disposed of, clever thought during the design process allows packaging materials to be re-used or altered to create innovative objects like frames or lamp shades. Environmentally conscious consumers are looking for recyclable items. Check out the things you could do....
